TRUMP GRABS NATION BY ITS PRIVATES

Time To Get Out the Pussy Hats?

July 6, 2017

WASHINGTON, DC ~ Armed Freedom

I'm sorry, but one more time we need to revisit what Donald J. Trump said back in 2005 when he was a private citizen: "And when you're a star, they let you do it. You can do anything. Grab 'em by the pussy. You can do anything." Downplaying his remarks as "locker room banter" the day following the publication of his remarks on October 6, 2016, then candidate Trump added: "I apologize if anyone was offended."

Now, as President, Trump is at it again: grabbing the nation by its privates by seeking to aggregate all available information about the nation's voters.

"Oh, come on Freedom! That's a stupid metaphor!" you say? Perhaps. But consider this:

The reason men grab women by their privates is not sexual: it is to feel and to demonstrate power. It is not motivated by sexual arousal, but by a very weak ego that needs pumping up. If "you can do anything," then you can strut yourself around as "powerful."

The reason why Trump has created the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity is likely so he can gather ego-sparing "evidence" of the wide-spread voter fraud he alleges as the explanation for why he did not win the popular vote in the 2016 election.

For the same reason Trump boasted about grabbing women by their privates, if he can "prove" that voter fraud is real, his weak ego will be pumped up so he can feel powerful.

A President who forms such a commission in a desperate attempt to prove the truth of what is obviously a delusion, is a President who is dangerously vulnerable to the manipulations of flattery, etc. We've already seen this happen: just wait until he meets with Russia's Putin!

While we suspect such are the motivations behind his "Advisory Commission," others in the West Wing and up on Capitol Hill may be pursuing other agendas. From the relatively benign targeting of political ads to the more nefarious manipulation and suppression of voter turnout for political gain, such a treasure trove of voter information would be invaluable. Thank goodness 44 states so far are refusing to pony up all the requested data!

Voter roll manipulation has already happened in recent years in a great many places. Usually it has been a Republican tactic, and the Supreme Court has ruled against some of it.

But note well:

The President's overwhelming need for ego-boosting experiences opens the door to just such threats to our freedoms. It is a danger to us all.

Time To Medicate Trump?

July 6, 2017

WASHINGTON, DC ~ Armed Freedom

In Edition 22 we examined Trump's dangerous narcissism, of which his power-grabbing is a symptom. Up until now, we have been silent on the issue of medicating the President.

So, we are quite heartened by the announcement today from Big Pharma! Just in time, their researchers have come up with a medicine for what ails the body politic, or more specifically, it's many ego-damaged politicians.

Encouragingly packaged in a bi-partisan-colored tube, research indicates the medication is best applied directly to the ego.<sup>1</sup> It should be applied daily (or more frequently if the politician is called out for overweening hubris by four or more nationally syndicated pundits, at least one of whom must be of the politician's own political persuasion.)
